TORNADO KILLS 225 PERSONS IN SOUTHLAND

AWFUL STORM SWEEPS LOUISIANA, MISSISSIPPI AND ALABAMA.

HUNDREDS REPORTED INJURED

SCORES OF SMALL TOWNS ARE WRECKED AND PEOPLE ARE MADE HOMELESS.

WIDE AREA IS DEVASTATED

At Last Report, Storm was Still Raging, It Having Transferred Its Field of Operations to Georgia—Torrents of Rain and Electrical Display.

ATLANTA, Ga., April 24.—Reports up to midnight indicate that 225 persons were killed and about 400 injured in storms of great violence which passed over sections of Louisiana, Mississippi and Alabama today. Several towns were almost totally swept away and the property damage will run into large figures. Most of those killed were negroes whose cabins were swept away like so much paper.

Natchez, Miss., reports that of 64 persons killed in that section, only two were whites.

Late reports from Amite, a small town in southeastern Louisiana, say that the town was almost entirely destroyed and the estimates place the number killed at between 25 and 50, while at least 75 were injured.

Many Reported Killed.

At McLain, Miss., eight are reported to have been killed; at Vidalia, La., one white woman and six negroes are dead; at Quitman Landing, 11 negroes were killed, and reports of from 1 to 5 deaths come from many towns scattered throughout the storm-swept area.

New Orleans and Mobile were cut off from wire communications with the outside world for several hours today and the telegraph companies report wires down in all directions.

Tonight the storm is sweeping through Georgia, but beyond torrential rains, accompanied by high winds and brilliant electrical displays, no serious damage or loss of life has been reported in the state.

Score of Towns Wiped Out.

In Louisiana it is estimated that a score of small towns were destroyed or partially wrecked. They include Amite City, Arcadia and Independence, Belle Grove, Velton, Norman, Pine Ridge, Quitman Landing, Fulrchild's Creek, Purvis and Lumberton, Miss., are reported seriously damaged by the storm.

In Alabama, Dora was the chief sufferer. This town is also known as Bergen. Four or more persons were killed, among them the wife and daughter of Section Master Moore. Fifty persons at the lowest estimate were injured. Those most seriously hurt were carried to hospitals in Birmingham, Ala. One woman, Mrs. McCully, died on the train.

At Bergen, cars were blown from the railroad tracks and considerable other property destroyed.

Does Damage in Alabama.

Reports also say that the storm struck Albertville, Ala., late this afternoon, doing much damage to life and property. An unconfirmed report from this section gives the death list from 30 to 35 with scores of persons injured. A train was sent from Birmingham tonight carrying physicians and a squad of state militiamen to the district.

From Meridian, Miss., comes a report that Mrs. John Minniece and her child were killed outright and John Minniece was seriously injured while a number of other persons were hurt and there was considerable destruction of property.

Richland and Lamourie, La., were struck by the storm and nearly a fifth of their population injured.

Winchester, Miss., a small town, is reported wiped out, though only two persons are known to have been killed.

Mobile reported nine dead in Hattiesburg, Miss., but this has not been confirmed.

It is reported that about 50 white persons and 50 negroes were killed by the tornado at Purvis, Miss.

Twenty Towns Visited.

In all nearly 20 towns were struck by the "twisters," of which there seems to have been at least five.

The tornado that first appeared in Concordia parish, La., [illegible] to have been the most serious, both in respect to number of victims and extent of territory covered. Although it covered a rural district and struck no large town, the known results of its work are 61 dead and at least 100 injured with the prospect that the list will be considerably swelled by morning. More than 50 of the dead are negroes, whose log cabins proved particularly fatal to the occupants, being easily torn to pieces while the weight of the timbers crushed the inmates to death. After leaving Concordia parish, the storm crossed over into Mississippi and traversed portions of Adams, Jefferson and Claiborne

HONEYMOON ENDS IN SUDDEN DEATH

DUC DE CHAULNES DIES OF HEART FAILURE.

DUCHESS OVERCOME BY GRIEF

SHONTS' YOUNGEST DAUGHTER IS MADE A WIDOW.

WERE MARRIED FEBRUARY 16

Brief Honeymoon Brought to Tragic Close at Apartments of Couple in Hotel Langham, Paris Papers Attribute Death to Use of Drugs.

PARIS, April 24.—In the presence of his bride of less than three months, Emmanuel Theodore Bernard Marie d'Albert de Luynes d'Ailly, ninth duke of Chaulnes and of Picquigny and Marquis of Dangeau, died suddenly from heart failure at 11 o'clock Thursday night in his apartments in the Hotel Langham in the Rue Bocsadore. The physicians summoned to attend the duke in his sudden seizure officially gave the cause of death as embolism of the heart.

The Due De Chaulnes and the duchess, who was Miss Theodora Shontz, youngest daughter of Theodore P. Shontz of New York, were married in New York on February 16 of this year. The wedding was a brilliant social function and the end of the brief honeymoon was sudden and tragic. Since the arrival of the couple a month ago, they had lived comparatively quiet at the Hotel Langham, taking an occasional automobile ride in the afternoon, and in the evening dining with intimate friends or going to the theater.

The duke for years has suffered from a weak heart and for some time had been the subject of fainting spells. Several times since his arrival here, he consulted Dr. Henri Iscovesco in an effort to obtain relief from his ailment.

DUC DE CHAULNES.

Taken Suddenly Ill.

Yesterday evening the duke and the duchess, both in the best of spirits, returned from a drive in the Bois de Boulogne. They dined in their private apartments, and an hour after dinner the duke complained of feeling ill, and retired.

About 11 o'clock he was suddenly stricken, gasped for breath and immediately lost consciousness. The duchess was seized with panic and screamed for aid. A maid who responded to her cry was hurriedly dispatched for Dr. Iscovesco, while the hotel management summoned another physician. The two doctors arrived simultaneously at the bedside of the sufferer and administered the most powerful of heart stimulants, but their efforts were in vain. The duchess was holding the duke in her arms when he expired. She was overcome by grief and could not be persuaded by some of her American friends who visited the apartment to leave the bedside of her dead husband, and kept vigil there throughout the night.

Shontz Notified.

Theodore P. Shontz was notified by cable of his daughter's bereavement and a message was received from him today saying he would take the first steamer leaving New York and come to Paris. The duke's family was notified this morning and his sister, the Duchess d'Uzes, who was at Biarritz, started immediately for Paris. Today, Mrs. H. Millington Drake and other friends did what they could to comfort the distracted widow, whose grief calmed somewhat during the afternoon.

When the death of the Duc De Chaulnes became generally known today a steady stream of the duke's friends, including a number of members of the French nobility, called at the hotel and left [illegible]

The refusal of the hotel authorities during the afternoon to give particulars concerning the death of the duke led to reports that there was some mystery surrounding it, but these were completely dissipated by M. Jeanton, a police physician, who made an examination of the body in the presence of other physicians and officially certified that death was due to a natural cause and that there was no necessity for an autopsy.

In accordance with traditions of the French nobility, the funeral will be a pretentious function and will attract to Paris the representatives of the most

CITY WINS CASE AGAIN

FEDERAL COURT REFUSES TO TAKE JURISDICTION.

Cascade Avenue Parking Plans to Be Carried Out as Soon as Possible.

The city of Colorado Springs won out in the United States circuit court in Denver yesterday afternoon, in the injunction suit brought against it by the Menlo Trading company, a New Jersey corporation, and the city officials will at once proceed with the middle parking of Cascade avenue. At an adjourned meeting of the City Council tonight the matter will be taken up and the work ordered pushed to completion.

The federal court refused not only to issue the requested restraining order preventing the city from proceeding with the parking of the avenue as planned, but would not even hear the testimony of the plaintiff, holding that it had no jurisdiction over the action of a city in carrying out its regulations. The plaintiff, it is understood, will drop the case.

Strong Opposition.

General W. J. Palmer, Dr. and Mrs. Gregor, Mrs. Dr. Mayhew, Mrs. Jessie Thorn, Mrs. Dr. Reed, Professor William Strieby, M. A. Hobson of the Fair estate, and A. V. Hunter, the Leadville banker, are among the property owners who opposed the city's parking plan. They held that the Council exceeded its authority in passing the parking ordinance, and that certain people not owning property in the parking district signed the petition for the parking. The Menlo Trading company owns the northeast corner of Cascade and Platte avenues, fronting 100 feet on Cascade avenue, which is part of the Lillibridge estate.

The only point which Judge R. E. Lewis of the federal court allowed to be argued was whether or not the city of Colorado Springs exceeded its authority in passing the parking ordinance. He sustained the argument of the city's attorneys that the local City Council is entirely within its rights in the matter, and refused to take further jurisdiction. This confirms the decision of Judge W. S. Morris of the district court in this city, who two weeks ago, in the case of General W. J. Palmer et al. vs. the city of Colorado Springs, based on the same grounds, also refused to restrain the city from parking the avenue as planned. The Menlo Trading company then applied to the federal court for an injunction.

Case Ably Handled.

Richardson and Hawkins of Denver represented the plaintiff company, and City Attorney W. B. Price, together with former Mayor Ira Harris, acted for the city. Messrs. Harris and Price were congratulated by the city officials in attendance at the hearing on the able manner in which they submitted the defendant's case. Attorney Price prepared an exhaustive brief for the city, which was presented to the court by Attorney Harris.

Among the city officials at the hearing were Mayor D. C. Heizer, Clerk E. C. F. Whitaker, Engineer B. H. Ashworth and Chairman John Hill of the street committee of the City Council.

MARSHAL SHOOTS SELF

ACCIDENTAL DISCHARGE OF GUN WILL MEAN DEATH.

Richard Smith, Marshal of Goldfield, Shot in Forehead in Grocery Store of J. A. Beckman.

Special to The Gazette.

GOLDFIELD, Colo., April 24.—Richard Smith, marshal of this city, was accidentally shot in the forehead by a bullet from his own 45 Colt's revolver, at about 6 o'clock this evening, as he was reaching over the counter in J. A. Beckman's grocery story to get some meat for his dog. The bullet struck the officer square in the forehead, and the whole top of his head was practically torn off. He was taken to the District hospital at Victor, where death is expected momentarily.

Marshal Smith is aged 45 years, and has a wife and five children. He is a member of the Masonic lodge No. 168, and the Eagles, No. 295. He was appointed marshal about one year ago, and was a popular and efficient officer.

HUSBAND ATE DOG'S MEAT AND FED WIFE LIMBURGER.

Also Wore Shirt Five Weeks to Reduce Expenses—Woman Gets Divorce on These Grounds.

Alleging that her husband was so penurious that he spent only 28 cents on their honeymoon trip to Nebraska, and that he not only would not give her enough to eat, but took away the bones from their dog to munch on them himself, Mrs. Augusta Tuepker secured a divorce from Henry Tuepker in the county court yesterday morning.

The couple were married in this city December 13, 1905, and, according to the testimony of the plaintiff, her husband spent only 28 cents on their honeymoon trip en route to his former home. This was expended for buns and limburger cheese, said Mrs. Tuepker, who also said stress on the fact that she could not eat "such stuff." In addition to half starving her and taking away the dog's food, Tuepker further reduced expenses by wearing a shirt for five weeks without a change, according to his wife.

She also said that because she would not deed over her property to Tuepker, he kept arguing with her over the matter until 2 o'clock in the morning, and that when, worn out by his persistency, she finally fell asleep, her husband would awaken her by poking her in the ribs with his elbow.

Tuepker is the fourth husband of the plaintiff, who, nothing daunted by her last dismal experience, is said to be considering a fifth matrimonial [illegible]

$2,000,000 INVOLVED

SPRINGS AND MISSOURI MEN BUY BIG LAND TRACT.

Purchase 500,000 Acres in Oregon; Attorney General Hadley Here in Connection With Deal.

An estate in southern Oregon as large as the entire state of Rhode Island, comprising 500,000 acres of rich agricultural land, has just been purchased by Colorado Springs and Kansas City men from the Oregon Military Land Grant company for a cash consideration of $2,000,000. H. C. Shimp of this city, formerly a member of the Rickey-Shimp Investment company of Colorado Springs, is treasurer of the Oregon Valley Land company, which purchased the big tracts of land. R. J. Martin and J. H. Borders, both of Kansas City, are president and secretary, respectively, of the purchasing company.

These three men promoted the deal exactly one year ago whereby the Trinchera grant in San Luis valley, belonging to General W. J. Palmer and the Trinchera estate, was sold and colonized. This deal, embracing 170,000 acres, was probably the largest land deal ever made in Colorado. The Oregon transaction is said to be the biggest agricultural land deal ever made in the west.

The Oregon Valley Land company will plot and sell 300,000 acres of the land and keep 200,000 acres in its control.

Historic Strip of Land.

The Oregon Central Military Road grant is one of the most historic strips of land in that state. On July 5, 1884, it was donated from the federal domain to the state of Oregon for the purpose of constructing a highway from Eugene across the state to the Idaho boundary. The Oregon legislature, October 14 of the same year, transferred the land to the Oregon Central Military Road company in consideration of the construction of the desired road.

The tract, which is in alternate quarter sections, lies in the counties of Klamath, Lake and Harney. Each quarter section adjoins a cultivated quarter section, which has been taken up and improved long ago, thus increasing the value of the grant. Five railroad companies are now heading eight railroads in the central Oregon country.

Hadley Here on Deal.

Simultaneous with the announcement of the consummation of the big deal, is the statement that Attorney General Herbert S. Hadley of Missouri, who left for the east last night, after a visit west supposedly for his health, came here in fact to look after the legal end of the Oregon proposition, and also to wind up matters in connection with the Trinchera land grant. Mr. Hadley was attorney for the San Luis Valley Land company, under which name Mr. Shimp and his Kansas City colleagues promoted the Trinchera deal, and is also the legal adviser for the Oregon Valley Land company.

Mr. Shimp, who is stopping at the Antlers hotel, will leave for Kansas City tonight.

BAD FIRE IN PUEBLO

Damage in Rio Grande Yards Amounts to $60,000.

PUEBLO, April 24.—Sparks from a passing locomotive today started a fire in the Rio Grande yards which did $60,000 damage. Three sections of the C street viaduct also went down and several adjoining buildings were threatened. A high wind made the blaze hard to handle and the entire fire department worked for four hours before the flames were under control.

ARGUMENT FOR FOUR WARSHIPS

BEST WAY TO INSURE PEACE, BEVERIDGE DECLARES.

WAR WITH JAPAN IS FEARED

SUPPORTERS OF LARGER NAVY HEARD IN SENATE.

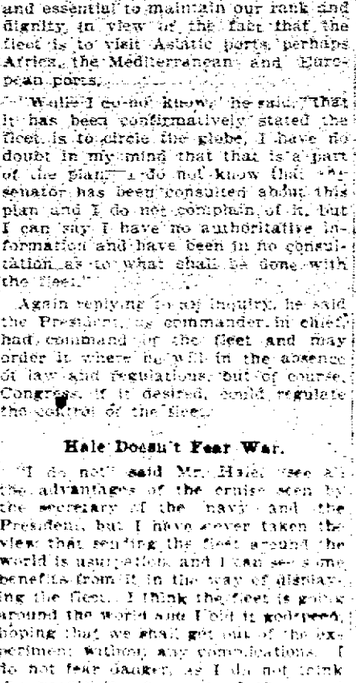

WORLD CRUISE IS DISCUSSED

Senator Hale Intimates That Congress Might Well Have Been Consulted as to Advisability of Contemplated Movement of Fleet.

WASHINGTON, April 24.—Arguments in favor of the President's program for four battleships consumed most of the session of the Senate today. Senator Piles of Washington, opened the debate declaring that the Asiatic situation affecting the Pacific coast was a menace to that section, as war clouds might quickly rise there over some clash between Americans and the Japanese. He wanted a fleet kept in the Pacific.

Mr. Hale laid before the Senate a statement of battleships and other features of the American naval program which he said showed that as large a fleet as is now in the Pacific can be kept there and at the same time there would be ships for a still larger fleet for the Atlantic. He said that there had been authorized, including the authorizations of the pending bill, 31 battleships and a great many cruisers, many of them as large as battleships.

"I do not think" said Mr. Hale, "that senators and representatives have appreciated these facts. We are not compelled to build another great fleet in order to have protection on either coast."

Proposed Cruise of Fleet.

Senator Bacon asked Senator Hale if he had positive knowledge that the fleet now in the Pacific was to be sent around the world, and Mr. Hale replied that he had no direct and positive knowledge, but that from legislation that had been recommended, he was sure the fleet was prepared to circle the globe.

Mr. Hale said that legislation had been recommended as being suitable and essential to maintain our rank and dignity in view of the fact that the fleet is to visit Asiatic ports, perhaps Africa, the Mediterranean and European ports.

"While I cannot know," he said, "that it has been confirmatively stated the fleet is to circle the globe, I have no doubt in my mind that that is a part of the plan. I do not know that the senator has been consulted about this plan and I do not complain of it, but I can say I have no authoritative information and have been in no consultation as to what shall be done with the fleet."

Again replying to my inquiry, he said the President, as commander in chief, had command of the fleet and may order it where he will in the absence of law and regulations, but of course, Congress, if it desired, could regulate the course of the fleet.

Hale Doesn't Fear War.

"I do not," said Mr. Hale, "see all the advantages of the cruise seen by the secretary of the navy and the President, but I have never taken the view that sending the fleet around the world is usurpation and I can see some benefits from it in the way of disciplining the fleet. I think the fleet is going around the world and I bid it godspeed, hoping that we shall get out of the experiment without any complications. I do not fear danger, as I do not think the people in any part of the world where this fleet will go will be found hostile to us, and I do not fear the remotest possibility of war between any country and the United States."

An earnest appeal was made by Senator Piles of Washington, in favor of an authorization for four battleships. This, he declared, was a measure of peace and not of war. He came he said, from the section of the country that must be the storm center of any conflict in the Pacific ocean. The people of the Pacific were in favor of four battleships. He sent to the vice president's desk a statement of a vote of 162 editors attending a meeting in New York, which he said showed 128 in favor of four battleships and the President's policy for naval expansion.

While he had never been one of those who feared war, it could not be denied

FLEET OFF FOR SANTA BARBARA

STAY OF FIVE DAYS WILL BE MADE AT THIS POINT.

USUAL FESTIVITIES PLANNED

FLOWER BATTLES, SHOWS, PARADES ON PROGRAM.

GRAND REVIEW AT 'FRISCO

Forty-six Vessels of War Will Be Seen in San Francisco Harbor. Event Will Close California's Share in the Welcome of Ships to Coast.

LOS ANGELES, April 24.—The scattered divisions of the American battleship fleet will reassemble early tomorrow morning and continue their journey toward San Francisco, where the great review of the combined Atlantic and Pacific fleets is to be held on May 6. The 16 battleships have been at anchor in the four ports of Los Angeles for just a week, and their going marks the close of what is generally regarded here as one of the most important periods in the history of the city. It has been a week of sailors ashore and public aboard most of the vessels. The days and nights have all been filled with merrymaking, the beach cities where the divisions have been stopping have vied with this center of the festivities in lavishing entertainment upon officers and men.

Fleet Off for Santa Barbara.

A run of seven hours tomorrow will bring the fleet to Santa Barbara for a five-days' stay. Flower shows, flower parades, flower battles, dances of the flowers, informal dances on the canvas-covered boulevard fronting the ocean for the men of the fleet and formal dinners, receptions and balls for the officers, together with a widely varied program of sports and games have been arranged at this resort. Refreshed by the respite a full in the Los Angeles program afforded today and by the cruise of 100 miles up the coast, the officers and men alike, will enter with exclusion into the entertainment plans Santa Barbara has prepared with so much care.

Two more visits—one at Monterey and the other at Santa Cruz—together with a daylight call at Port Harford, just off San Luis Obispo, will be made before the fleet reaches San Francisco, where 10 full days of feasting and revelry at a land display which will eclipse the big parade at San Francisco, a number of men in line and a review of 46 vessels of war in San Francisco harbor by Secretary of the Navy Metcalf, will bring to a close California's share in the welcome of the battleships to the Pacific coast. After San Francisco comes a jaunt to Puget Sound with calls at Seattle, Tacoma and then the ships return to the city within the Golden Gate to prepare for their long cruise around the world.

Officers Plan Programme.

The plans at Santa Barbara have been made largely under direction of Rear Admiral Bowman H. McCalla, retired, who is president of the executive committee of the Civic league. This has given a personal interest in the visit to most of the senior officers of the various divisions. Oddly enough the entertainments for the officers provided here in Los Angeles were under the direction of a retired officer of the army, Lieut. Gen. Adna R. Chaffee. The two branches of the military service have thus been united in the celebration of the visit. The army also will be largely represented in the parade of the 5,000 bluejackets and marines in San Francisco.

A parade of one half of the Atlantic fleet brigade will be a feature of the stay at Santa Barbara. In passing the reviewing stand, the sailors are to be targets for a perfect rain of flowers, volleyed from an army of admirers massed in stands on either side of the boulevard.

Today more than 3,000 sailors were given a farewell tour of the city in automobiles. It was a rare treat to most of them and they gave evidence of it in the run through the principal streets and out into the suburbs. Three hundred and sixty-five machines were placed at the disposal of the sailors, the variety ranging from two passenger runabouts to the ponderous sight-seeing vehicles which accommodated 50 or more. Even then there was an overflow and the late comers were sent out in the special sight-seeing trolley cars. Many of the sailors assigned to the latter hauled to the roofs of the cars and had almost as good a time as did their shipmates in the automobiles. Each of the sailors was provided with a flag. The parade was decidedly unique and appropriately ended the long program of entertainment provided for the enlisted men.

Postmaster M. H. Flint, general chairman of the [illegible] committee, personally took charge of most of the events in which the men participated.

Receptions, Dances and Dinners.

A number of receptions, dances and dinners were given for the officers today in Los Angeles and the various beach cities. The latter communities also entertained with games and sports during the afternoon, many of the [illegible] who took the overland trip in the morning.

he said, that there was on the Pacific coast a peculiar condition, and the time was coming when the people of the country would have to face that condition. The Pacific coast, he added, had by opportunities attracted many Asiatics who had been reared in a different way from the people of the United States. There is a possibility of a clash between these people and those of the Pacific coast. Under such conditions, he declared, they sometimes resort to arms. That had not occurred in the United States, but it had occurred in British Columbia, he added.

Piles Is Applauded.

Mr. Piles suggested the possibility that the Japanese government might be compelled by popular clamor to make a declaration of war, even against its will, and if the fleet on that coast should be withdrawn the people there would, he said, be helpless in the face of any attack, because of the unfortified and undefended conditions existing there. He would vote for four new ships as a peace measure and would, he declared, rather be wrong in voting for four than right in voting for two. He was applauded.

Senator McCreary, in advocating the four battleships amendment, said that the nations of the world were increasing their navies and unless the United States continued to increase its navy it would soon be a second-class power.

Senator Beveridge advocated with great earnestness the authorization of four battleships, declaring that such a course would favor peace in the future rather than war. He commented on the idea that war was not possible, saying that if he believed such a doctrine he would vote against any navy. He insisted that war sprang up suddenly, while it must be prepared against deliberately.

Small Matters Cause Wars.

Citing the Trent incident, the Mafia in New Orleans, and the Venezuela matter, Mr. Beveridge insisted that war feeling develops from an apparently trifling occurrence. He suggested that in the case of a conflict between Americans and Japanese in this country, resulting in a lynching of Japanese, the nation might be face to face with warlike trouble.

Reverting to the time when he visited Japan, five years before the Russo-Japanese war, Mr. Beveridge said he then was convinced that the nations would have a conflict, and upon returning to this country consulted the senator from Maine before writing a magazine article stating his convictions. As a result of that conference, he said he modified his published statement. He cited this instance to show that the ideas of great statesmen about the lack of danger of conflict are not to be relied upon at all times.

"What information the executive has in his possession no man knows," declared Mr. Beveridge in referring to the President's message in favor of four battleships. An important fact was that in no other message had the President made such a recommendation on his "solemn responsibility."

Mr. Beveridge reminded the Senate that the President is the greatest peacemaker in the world. Was it not possible, he asked, that he had today the same idea of promoting peace by asking for four battleships when he brought about a cessation of hostilities between Russia and Japan?

Mr. Beveridge made a strong appeal to the Senate to make no mistake and to do what he said the American people desire, to provide an adequate navy to help maintain peace.

WILLIAM D. HAYWOOD LET OUT

Has Displeased Western Federation by His Advocacy in Lectures of Socialistic Theories.

DENVER, April 24.—Formal announcement was made in today's issue of the Miners Magazine, official organ of the Western Federation of Miners, over the signature of C. E. Mahoney, first vice president and acting president of the organization that the executive board has terminated the services of William D. Haywood as a representative of the federation in the field. Last December, after Haywood's acquittal at Boise, Idaho, on the charge of complicity in the murder of former Governor Steunenberg, he was superseded as secretary-treasurer of the federation by Ernest Mills, on order of the executive board. Since that time he has been employed as a lecturer and organizer for the federation and has made a tour in the east. It is intimated that the executive board disapproved of his activity in advocacy of socialistic theories.

FRANKLIN A CANDIDATE

DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR ACCEPTABLE.

Chairman of Executive Committee of Convention League, Denver, Addresses Colorado Democrats.

DENVER, April 24.—Charles W. Franklin, chairman of the executive committee of the Convention league, has decided to become a candidate for the Democratic nomination for Governor this fall.

Mr. Franklin announced today his candidacy in the following letter:

"April 22, 1908.

"To the Democrats of the state of Colorado:

"For some time past loyal friends throughout the state have mentioned my name in connection with the nomination for Governor upon the Democratic ticket. Several influential newspapers have been and are advocating my selection as candidate for that office. These have requested and are entitled to the courtesy of a declaration of my position, and I have to say that I would gratefully accept the nomination if tendered me. If I am nominated I will make an active and vigorous campaign, if elected, it will be without obligations, except those which tend to the advancement of the material interests of the state.

Yours very truly,
"C. W. FRANKLIN."

counties, its path being about 1,000 feet wide.

What appears to have been two different tornadoes also struck in western Alabama, one claiming six victims at Bergen and Thomas Sawmill, small places, and another struck Albertville, where 30 persons are reported to have been killed. This, however, cannot be confirmed as all wires are down.

Relief for the sufferers is being dispatched from all available points.

Albertville Devastated.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., April 24.—Today's storm devastated the heart of Albertville this afternoon. The number of dead and injured is large, but it is impossible to give figures as new bodies are constantly being found in the wreckage. The known dead at 11 o'clock were:

MRS. JOHN DECKER AND TWO CHILDREN.
MRS. WILLIAM AVERY.
ERICK M'CARD, aged 14, son of Attorney E. D. McCord.
MRS. SADLER.
MRS. BURKHARDT, aged 70.
"YOUNG" BIRDSONG.

It is estimated that 150 dwellings were torn from their foundations and many of them wrecked.

Other Towns Wiped Out.

HATTIESBURG, Miss., April 24.—The towns of McCallum, Purvis and McLaurin, Miss., were practically wiped out by a storm which swept over this section today, and it is believed that 100 persons have been killed in this section. More than 150 injured have been brought to the hospitals here for treatment. Every business house in Purvis and a majority of the residences were destroyed. Many families are destitute.

At McCallum, on the Mobile, Jackson and Kansas City railway, there are known to be dead eight, four of whom are white people.

A relief train returned to this city from Purvis at midnight bringing 45 seriously injured persons, many of whom it is said will die. The number of dead at Purvis is placed at 30 and the injured at 75.

Among the white dead are:

CARRIE DIXON.
MISS GRICE.
MRS. JAMES MOFFITT.
MRS. GERTRUDE BRIGHT.
MISS CLARA WEEMS.
MRS. VOWELL.

Death Due to Drugs?

PARIS, April 25.—Despite the official statement that the Duc DeChaousel died from natural causes the Paris newspapers print various versions as to the manner and place of his sudden demise. The Petit Journal says the duke died in a small apartment in a house belonging to his sister the Duchess [illegible] in the Rue Van Dyck. He [illegible] Thursday night according to the Petit Journal and not appearing Friday morning a servant entered the apartment and found him dead in bed, his features presenting a livid appearance as if decomposition had set in. Beside the bed says the account were bottles containing cocaine, ether and morphine. From this the newspaper draws the deduction that death was due to an overdose of drugs affecting a naturally weak heart.

BOYCOTTS DECLARED ILLEGAL

Decision Handed Down by Supreme Court of Nevada.

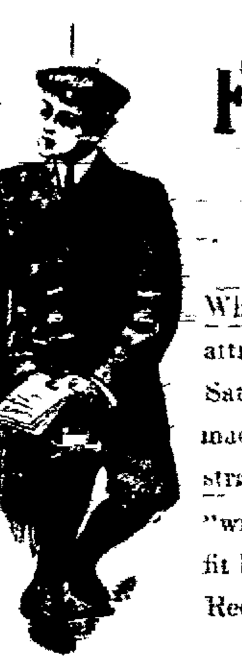

CARSON, Nev., April 24.—The supreme court of Nevada handed down a decision today which renders boycotts in all forms illegal and also makes it possible for parties injured to recover damages against any individual or corporation instituting a boycott. The case in question was that of L. C. Bronson of Goldfield versus the Industrial Workers of the World. The Industrial Workers of the World and the Goldfield Miners union declared a boycott against Bronson, who conducted a newspaper.

The decision of the lower court that the union being an unincorporated body could not be sued, is reversed.

Bronson has attached the funds of the union.

What the Press Agents Say

JOHN DREW IN "MY WIFE."

John Drew comes to the Opera House on next Tuesday evening in his latest comedy, "My Wife." The piece remained on Broadway at the Empire theater for four months, and not only there, but where it has since been seen, the universal opinion has been expressed that it is the most successful one which Mr. Drew has ever played in. Such presentations as this give to the theater dignity, refinement and importance and to the profession of acting a standing too often denied. "My Wife" being a Drew play, and as fine a Drew character as Mr. Frohman's star has ever had, it is a combination that gives exceeding delight to the audiences. There is an abundance of high-class fun in the comedy, and plenty of fine acting as the opportunities for this latter work are afforded, not only to Mr. Drew, but to every member of his excellent company. "My Wife" is a play theatergoers must see if they wish to enjoy John Drew at his very best.

Harry Van's new song "There Is Something Nice About You" is making a big hit and Mr. Van is becoming more popular every day as an illustrated song vocalist. Another complete change of program Monday. Watch Sunday's Gazette for announcement of program changes.

"COLORADO"

The Gertie Dunlap company established itself as the best popular-priced show ever in Colorado Springs last night, when they presented "Colorado." A large house saw the play and were highly delighted with it. Miss Dunlap as Colorado was simply great. This clever little lady is always a hit. Every member of the company seemed to work as if to the manner born. Today, matinee and night, by request, the "Wizard of Wall Street." Eight big, new specialties.

TRIP OF LOS ANGELES & SAN DIEGO BEACH RAILWAY MOTOR CAR

A feature of the celebration of the arrival of the fleet at San Diego is the Union Pacific gasoline motor car which President Babcock of the Los Angeles and San Diego Beach railway has installed as a treat and novelty for the world-girdling jackies and the thousands of others who will flock in and out of the Southern California city while participating in the festivities of the occasion. President Babcock thought it would be a novel experience for the sailor boys and sightseers to have the pleasure of riding through the sunny California climate on one of these modern and up-to-date mediums of transportation, and it is safe to say those who have the opportunity will agree with him.

The trip of this motor car to the coast was a noteworthy one. Ordered at a late date, that it might reach its destination on scheduled time it was necessary to start the car from Omaha without the customary trials or breaking in. The monster 200 horsepower engine propelling this car was not put together and tested out until the afternoon of April 6, and had but three hours of actual service propelling the car before starting on this long trip. No better evidence of these cars can be offered than the wonderful performance of this car from Omaha to the coast. Leaving Omaha at 5 a. m., April 9, the car arrived at Los Angeles at 3:05 p. m., April 12, having made the entire run without mishap or any delay whatever chargeable to the car. This is probably the fastest and most noteworthy long-distance trip ever made by a similar vehicle and demonstrates that the cars being built by the Omaha Union Pacific shops are not surpassed, as far as workmanship is concerned, by the product of any of the great manufacturing industries of the world.

The $39,000,000 of Trinity Church

Trinity Church Corporation, New York City, has 30 million dollars in its pocketbook—and its tenement houses are considered about the poorest on Manhattan Island. Charles Edward Russell asks the Trinity management some rather pertinent questions about their business methods—questions that every church member in America will find interesting—in his dispassionate cross-examining article, "Trinity Corporation, A Riddle of Riches."

A 14 Billion Dollar Business Is In Trouble right here amongst us and its trouble will affect you, Mr. Farmer, and you, Mr. Poet, and you, Mrs. Dressmaker. Do you know much about the railroad situation, what it means to all of us? For the first time in all that has been said on the subject *Herbert N. There is something to give your patriotism and your red corpuscles a glad feeling in Robert Edgren's story about our athletes. "The Record Breakers of America."

"The Girl Who Goes on the Stage"

Embarks upon a career after-admiration. There are nine chances to one that it will turn out a career-after-wormwood.

If the Girl in Your House is thinking of going on the stage, she might be interested to know some of the cold-blooded facts in the game. She will find a few of these, a few statistics and some interesting information in Harris Merton Lyon's article in the May BROADWAY.

The art joke of the world is the American millionaire. He has his own or his daughter's portrait painted by every "prominent foreign artist" who comes to this country. The "prominent foreign artist" slaps some sugary paint onto a canvas, puts in a lot of silk hangings, dogs and jewelry, gives the sitter a piquant expression and demands a check in five figures for five days' work. The story of this enterprise is given—with names—in "Foreign Portrait Painters and Their Harvest in America," by W. Howard Standish.

Studies in Personality: "Paul Morton, Westerner." Eighteen other people prominent in the public eye.

SATURDAY, APRIL 25, 1908.

AN OBJECT LESSON.

THE wind storm of the past two days will not have been without its compensations if it shall have converted a few more conservatives to the idea of paving the business district of the city. The city fathers have got Tejon Street all torn up and full of loose dirt, and then comes the wind and transfers most of the loose dirt either to the persons of travelers or the shelves and floors of places of business. On the east and west streets, it goes out eastward and helps fill up the Shook's Run valley and raise the level of Nob Hill.

Such a blow as this does hundreds of dollars worth of damage to the stocks of goods of business men; but the discomfort of it alone should be sufficient reason for having the nuisance abated as far as possible. To be sure, it would not be quite so bad if the sprinkling car should run oftener; but when the wind is blowing hard, the moisture made by the sprinkling car lasts only half an hour or so, and the car would have to be kept in constant use in the business district in order to keep down the dust. Such a remedy is clearly impracticable.

If the business district were paved, it is true that all dust would not thereby be at once and forever abolished. The pavement would have to be taken care of, and swept. But if the streets were properly crowned, they could be washed by the sprinkling car in a way which would keep the dust down effectually with perhaps only two applications a day, for the dust would not only be laid, it would be washed into the gutters and so into the sewers.

The question of the kind of paving can be decided afterward; let us first decide to pave. Meantime, however, many people are investigating the paving question, and members of the Council should be making themselves familiar with the general subject as probably they are. There are several kinds of pavement which might do well enough; but a difference of opinion about the kind of paving ought not to prevent our having any pavement at all.

Yon Yonson of Minnesota gets small comfort out of the Illinois convention. Some people expected that he would get the Illinois delegation, or that at least he would be able to prevent instructions for Bryan; but he simply wasn't in it at all. Since Bryan and Sullivan came to their understanding, everything has gone smoothly in Illinois. Bryan is to have the vote in the convention, and Sullivan is to be the recognized boss of the state. A year ago Mr. Bryan was talking about Mr. Sullivan in a very unkind way, and writing letters commanding that he be cast out; but a year sometimes makes a great difference. Mr. Bryan may be an idealist, but he is something of an opportunist, too.

A YOUNG MAN'S CHANCE.

ONE can not pick up a Colorado paper nowadays without reading of some new irrigation, power, mining, manufacturing or other enterprise which has just been added to the many industries of the state. It is an old story, but yet ever new; a story which every one who has the interests of Colorado at heart reads with pride, and this means very close to 100 per cent of those who have lived in this great state long enough to get even slightly acquainted with its unlimited resources. For who is there who does not feel a personal pride in seeing the state in which he lives set the pace for all others?

We read one day of the organization of a company to develop a mining claim, perhaps in a producing district, perhaps in a new one. Next we read of the plans of another concern for the development of new farming districts by means of large irrigation enterprises. Then we hear of a project, backed by thousands or millions of capital as the case may be, to "harness" the waters of the turbulent mountain streams for power purposes. And so it goes. Each day brings its new development enterprises; and each day Colorado takes another stride in its race for supremacy.

The encouraging thing is that these enterprises are fostered for the most part by energetic young men who carry their plans to completion, thus doing a great service for the state as well as for themselves. Without companies are almost unheard of in Colorado. Their day long since passed for the simple reason that Colorado offers so much of the legitimate that there is no room for enterprises of any other nature.

But in spite of the rapid development of the state [illegible] scarcely [illegible] overdone. There are many fertile valleys still awaiting the intelligent irrigation farmer, many hills with their hidden treasure beckoning to the prospector, and many streams whose waters are calling for the engineer. The young man of the West never was confronted with greater opportunities than today. The burdens have already been borne by the pioneers and the way has been made easy. All that is now required is intelligence and nerve. The majority of those who "blazed the trail" are now in comfortable circumstances—many, indeed, have independent fortunes—and it is now a comparatively easy thing for their sons and others to follow in their footsteps and do with little difficulty what has already been done under conditions far less favorable.

There seems to be no limit to the possibilities of young men of the West today. Particularly does this apply to Colorado. A piece of arid land that can now be had almost for the asking will be valuable ten or fifteen years hence. Now is the time for serious thought. Untold millions are to be made within the next few years and the young man who is blind to his opportunities, who closes his eyes to the things about him, will live to rue the day when he failed to think and act for himself.

Horace Greeley's advice to young men is as good today as ever.

We will all wish good luck to the Colorado delegation in Congress in getting the largest possible appropriation for the new federal building in Denver. The lesson of the old one ought not to be neglected. It was outgrown long before it was finished. The new one ought to be big enough to accommodate the federal department which now have to rent rooms all around the city, and big enough to last for twenty-five years to come. An extra half million now would probably save three or four times as much ten years from now.

The action of the Governor in dismissing two of the high officers of the National Guard, Colonels Verdeckberg and Kennedy, is clearly a case for suspended judgment. We know enough of the Governor to know at least that he believed he had good reason for his action; and it is only fair to the colonels to believe that they have a side of the case, too, which seems to them right. It is not a matter to be settled by newspaper comment; let it be settled by military law.

The whole country will be glad that Mr. Cleveland is better. The animosity developed by his terms in office has about died away now, and the gentler side of him has become better known to his fellow-countrymen. He is regarded with kindly feelings now by almost everybody—we suppose Mr. Eugene V. Debs must be excepted—and whenever he speaks is listened to with respectful attention.

It is said that never before in his life has Bishop Warren, the head of the Methodist Episcopal church in this state, declared himself in a political contest. He has indorsed Mr. Hughes heartily. The Methodists are mostly Republicans anyhow, but the Bishop's word of cheer may make some of them take more interest and work harder for the success of the Denver Republican ticket.

THE CARE OF LAWNS.

To the Editor of The Gazette:

I notice that the ill-advised work of excoriating the lawns with wire brooms is again in full swing. How so pernicious a custom ever came to prevail, passes comprehension. If there is one thing above all others which vegetation in this region needs it is that rich form of decayed vegetable matter known as humus. When spread over the ground, it acts as a mulch to retain the moisture in the soil; when incorporated with the soil it forms a valuable manure besides increasing enormously the water-holding capacity of the soil. Lawns derive their supply of humus mainly from the natural manures with which they are dressed and from the lawn clippings. The humus thus formed settles about the grass roots, and there forms a layer of decayed felt-like material which absorbs and holds water, minimizes evaporation, protects the grass roots from the sun and furnishes them with food. This food is in a form and in a location which renders it most readily available; for the mineral salts absorbed during life by the vegetation of which the bulk of the manure is composed, as well as the lawn clippings, are set free by decay and are at once utilized, while their location on and in the surface soil is most favorable, since grass is essentially a surface feeder.

The practice, therefore, of removing with a wire brush every vestige of the manure which has been applied to the lawns and of allowing no part of the lawn clippings to remain, acts injuriously in many way; for it absolutely inhibits the formation of humus, thereby depriving the grass roots of both food and protection, and necessitating continuous watering. This is especially true of gravelly or "leachy" soils such as ours, the water holding capacity of which is very low, owing to a lack of humus.

Of course the grass derives some benefit from a coating of manure allowed to remain for three weeks or a month, and then entirely removed, but this benefit is merely that derived from the readily soluble salts which are washed out of the manure and into the soil by the hose or by snow and rain, but this is only a fraction of the value of manure. The principal and permanent value of manure lies in its transformation into humus. The same is true of lawn clippings. They contain all of the salts absorbed by the grass, hence when the clippings are removed their contents of plant-food are also permanently removed from the land, when they might have been left to become available through decay. Good turf, when cut through, should show at least a quarter of an inch of black humus at the surface of the soil. No swept lawn will show this.

It is claimed that both manure and lawn clippings are unsightly. So they are, if in excess. But enough manure can be raked off with a wooden rake to insure a sightly lawn as soon as growth begins and yet leave enough to form an adequate supply of humus, while in this climate lawn clippings are and are washed into the grass so quickly that they rarely if ever remain long visible. Good looking lawns which have been brushed and kept clean of clippings are also pointed to as evidence in favor of the practice. But it must be remembered that such lawns are watered almost continuously. They are certainly not resistant, and I doubt very much if they have the elements of permanency. I believe the proper treatment of lawns in this climate to be as follows: As soon as the frost is fairly out of the surface soil apply a coat of well-rotted manure, and keep it moist. Excessive watering is to be avoided, since it tends to wash the salts down below the roots or to remove them by surface drainage. Three weeks or a month later remove as much of the manure as can be easily taken off with a wooden rake, and if the ground is soft, give it a good rolling. Allow the grass to get a good start, then make the first cutting and remove the clippings. Cut frequently during the growing season and allow the clippings to remain. Early in July apply any good lawn dressing containing nitrate of soda or muriate of potash and ground bone or dried blood, the two former for immediate results, the two latter for a slow effect in strengthening the grass for the autumn and winter. During the winter water sparingly and only when the surface of the ground is not frozen.

I am quite sure that lawns so treated will show a degree of beauty, hardiness and permanence quite unknown under the usual harsh treatment at present in vogue which entails an enormous waste of water and manure, and presents the sole advantage of giving remunerative labor to the unemployed.

W. C. STURGIS.

Colorado Springs, April 24.

LOOK OUT, NOT IN.

From the Chicago Record-Herald.

"How much better is a man than a sheep!" is a perfectly rational exclamation, taken from scripture, but from another point of view it would not be absurd to exclaim: "How much better is a sheep than a man!" That is to say, the lower animals, in some things, have the advantage of men. They have better health, better physical organs and greater freedom from mental worry. If the hardest worked horse in Chicago could be transformed for a single day into a hard-worked business man, with a perfect memory of his horse life, he would no doubt regard it as a ruinous exchange.

The reason of it all is that the lower animals lead a perfectly objective existence. So far as can be learned from their actions, they are incapable of reflection and, least of all, of self-consciousness. It is incredible that a horse, for instance, ever reflects that he is a horse and one particular horse. He never ruminates on his past or his future, on his rights or his wrongs, on his advantages or disadvantages. He looks outward all the time and never inward.

This objective life of the horse is what gives him such a fine appetite, such balmy sleep, such steady nerves and such firm and powerful muscles. If he spent as much time thinking about himself as men do he would not emerge from his stall in the morning refreshed and invigorated as at present, but a tired and dejected animal, without one-half of his present working power. This is a world of compensations, and if the lower animals are denied human intelligence, they are exempt from the greatest of human sufferings.

Now it is not possible nor desirable that a man should practice as little introspection as a sheep, but the peace of mind and the physical health which a sheep enjoys ought to teach a man to think less about himself and to lead as much as possible an objective life. Most human beings think about themselves nine-tenths of the time, and the effect on their health and happiness is far more destructive than hunger, cold or a severe physical pain for the same length of time.

The beautiful season is now at hand which encourages a man to live outside of himself. In the dreary winter there is nothing to look at or listen to, but now it is something like an ecstasy to see the sun rise, to listen to the warbling of the first birds, to watch the first buds and hope for the first flower, to visit the parks, to walk on the lake shore, and to watch the antics of the overjoyed children at their play.

This very day in particular men and women ought to drop the cares of the shop and the home, put on their best clothes, take a long stroll and forget for a few hours, anyway, their own being. For one sweet morning or afternoon they ought to live the life of sheep and horses and delight in the glories of nature without the slightest discount on account of their own being and identity. Their superior intelligence makes it possible for them to extract more pleasure from the objective life than the lower animals even. Away then and take a glad day off.

SOUTHERN REPRESENTATION.

From the New York World.

Representative Keifer, of Ohio, has already introduced a bill to enforce the demand of the Ohio platform. It reduces Alabama from nine Representatives to five, Arkansas from seven to five, Florida from three to two, Georgia from eleven to six, Louisiana from seven to three, Mississippi from eight to three, North Carolina from seven to three, Tennessee from ten to eight, Texas from sixteen to twelve, Virginia from ten to eight. This would mean a loss to the South of thirty-seven Representatives in Congress and thirty-seven presidential electors. What would be left of the Democratic party?

After twelve years of Bryanism there are only thirty-seven Democrats in both houses of Congress north of Mason and Dixon's line and outside the city of New York. Four years more of Bryanism would leave the Democratic party in the north without force as a national political organization, and a Republican Congress would be free to reduce southern representation to the lowest number that the Constitution will permit.

If the South wishes the Democratic party destroyed in the North and is willing that nearly one-third of its own representation be sacrificed to triumphant Republicanism, there is no surer way of reaching that end than by permitting the nomination of Mr. Bryan for President next July.

THE MAN AND HIS JOB

By Herbert J. Hapgood

Some time ago in the coal mines of Pennsylvania, an incident occurred which not only illustrates the insuppressibility of Irish wit, but renders also an indisputable principle in the attainment of success. Casey had been working at the bottom of a five-hundred-foot shaft, when a tremendous explosion brought him flying to the top in a cloud of dust and debris. The engineers crowded around him to ascertain the cause of the explosion, but Casey's only explanation was: "You can't keep a good man down!"

And the biographies of many of our great men bristle with examples of genius that burst the bounds and bonds of seeming limitation. At the age of thirty, Owen Kildare could neither read nor write, but nine years later finds him the author of several goods books.

Vice President Henry Wilson went to school only one month in every year, and at the end of eleven years of hard work, received as a recompense for his labors a yoke of oxen and six sheep, which brought him only eighty-four dollars. Before eight years had passed he made his anti-slavery speech in the Massachusetts legislature, and four years later he found himself in Congress, to be followed by his being elected vice president.

George W. Child, formerly at the head of the Philadelphia Ledger, started to work for two dollars per week.

Eddie Foy began life as a newsboy.

From the Greek Creon down to our present day conquerors of success are thousands of proofs that you can't keep a good man down!"

Today's Horoscope

Saturday, April 25, 1908.

Set carefully thy foot on unknown ways.
No augury rewards the watcher's gaze.

The 116th day of the year, with the 14-day-old Moon in perigee.

One of the very uncertain days of this bissextile year. There is hardly a positive augury in the configuration of these twenty-four hours save that new ventures and intricate business matters would better be postponed for some days if delay will not affect them unfavorably.

Writers, accountants, shop employes, office assistants and artificers will do their best work before 1 p. m. in this period.

One favorable sign is over the employment of men for any purpose. Hire new hands for shop or farm, or new employes for office or store with good confidence.

The woman whose birthdate this is may expect a letter with delightful news before the summer is ended. If unmarried, she will be wooed.

Lending money to strangers will be dangerous for the man with this birthdate. An office cabal will threaten his position if he takes part in it.

The girl born today will love order, elegance and space.

The boy born today will be sharp, but he will need stern moral training.

Weak Heart

Upon the heart action depends not only health, but life. If weak, the circulation is sluggish, and the supply of nourishment diminished. It also fails to carry off impurities. Disease follows from decay and stagnation. Dr. Miles' Heart Cure stimulates the heart action by strengthening the heart nerves and muscles.

"I had frequent sinking spells, sometimes as many as three in a day, during which my heart would seem to stop beating, necessitating the calling of a physician to resuscitate me. Before finishing the first bottle of Dr. Miles' Heart Cure the sinking spells had ceased, and I took altogether five bottles for a complete cure."

F. S. Rose, Trunk and Bag Maker, Coming to Springs.

F. S. Rose of Atchison, Kan., will be associated with W. H. Wise of this city in the trunk and harness business in Colorado Springs in the near future. The firm will occupy quarters in the new Bacon block, to be built at 18 East Pikes Peak avenue.

Mr. Rose is a practical trunk and bag maker, and all articles pertaining to the trunk and harness line will be manufactured in the Colorado Springs shop, thus doing away with the necessity of importing goods into the city. Mr. Wise is too well known in Colorado Springs to require mention. A large number of skilled workmen will be employed and the firm expects to build up a big wholesale, as well as retail business in Colorado Springs and vicinity.

After a brief visit to this city, Mr. Rose returned last night to Atchison, where he will close up his affairs. On May 1 he will return with his family to reside permanently in Colorado Springs.

J. FRANK PEARSON IS DEAD

Former Springs Man a Victim of Pneumonia at Reno, Nev.—Body to Be Brought Here.

J. Frank Pearson, for many years a resident of Colorado Springs, died suddenly from pneumonia in Reno, Nev., according to a telegram received by his brother, Charles Pearson of this city. Mr. Pearson was stricken with the disease in the new mining district of Rawhide, Nev., and was rushed to Reno in the hope of saving his life by better attention. He was about 40 years old and received his education in this city, where he had many friends. During the last six or seven years Mr. Pearson has been mining in Nevada and Arizona, and is understood to have left considerable property, especially in Nevada. He was also widely known throughout Colorado, and was a member of the Aspen lodge of Elks.

Charles Pearson, a brother of the dead man, was formerly secretary and manager of the Pikes Peak club. A sister, Mrs. Allward, wife of Deputy Sheriff Harry C. Allward, also lives in Colorado Springs.

The body will be brought here Monday or Tuesday. Funeral arrangements have not been made.

Awarded $60,000 in Damage Case Against Denver & Rio Grande Railroad.

The United States Reduction and Refining company was awarded $60,000 in the district court in Canon City yesterday, in its suit against the Denver and Rio Grande Railroad company. The railroad company gave notice of a motion for a new trial.

The reduction company sued for $250,000 damages as a result of the destruction by fire of the National mill in Florence, two years ago, claiming that the fire was caused by sparks from a passing Rio Grande engine.

Mr. S. L. Bowen, of Wayne, W. Va., writes: "I was a sufferer from kidney disease, so that at times I could not get out of bed, and when I did I could not stand straight. I took Foley's Kidney Cure. One dollar bottle and part of the second cured me entirely. Foley's Kidney Cure works wonders where others are total failures. For sale by all dealers.

TO THE REFORM SCHOOL.

Three Colored Boys Sentenced in the Juvenile Court.

Fred Cooper and Harold Brown, each aged 11 years, and Frank Howell, aged 14 years, all colored, were yesterday sentenced to the Reform school at Golden by Judge Robert Kerr of the juvenile court. Cooper and Brown stole a quantity of potato chips and a small sum of money from Jacob Long's chip factory. They have caused much trouble to Probation Officer William Reasoner. Cooper was already a ward of the court, having been brought before Judge Kerr more than two years ago.

Young Howell, committed for the theft of two pairs of shoes and other goods from Wagor's shoe shop, was shown to have visited the shop with Cooper earlier in the day, supposedly for the purpose of "sizing up" the place. The advanced criminal methods of the youthful delinquents amazed the authorities, who will be more stringent than ever in preventing the spread of crime among small boys.

CUESTA REY CIGAR A GREAT SELLER

Probably no other Key West cigar on the market enjoys such phenomenal sales as the well-known Cuesta Rey cigar. It is the choice of thousands of men who really appreciate cigar quality, and who have tried many other brands before settling upon this one as their favorite smoke. The uniformly rich mellow flavor, the result of careful selection from the purest Havana tobacco, and the fact that there are 25 different sizes bearing the Cuesta Rey label, combine to give the smoker real cigar satisfaction. In speaking of the sales of this popular cigar, Mr. Frank Osborne, manager of the Fred Daut Cigar company, said: "The Cuesta Rey cigar is certainly a seller. We put out on an average of 10,000 a week and the demand is steadily growing."

MRS. BARTLETT TO WED AGAIN

Former Springs Woman to Marry New York Man.

News has been received here of the approaching marriage of Mrs. Robert Pomeroy Bartlett, to Dr. Fitch, a prominent Rochester, N. Y., physician. Some years ago Mrs. Bartlett, then Mrs. C. G. Robinson, lived at 1205 North Cascade avenue, now the home of Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Tutt. After the death of Mr. Robinson, she was married to Mr. Bartlett, one of the twin sons of General Francis Bartlett of Massachusetts. Mr. Bartlett died about five years ago and since then Mrs. Bartlett has made her home in Rochester.

Mrs. Bartlett is a sister of Mrs George D. Bonbright. Last summer accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Bonbright and her daughter, Miss Dorothy Robinson, Mrs. Bartlett spent several weeks at the Antlers hotel. At that time Dr. Fitch was a member of the party, being medical adviser.

Mrs. Bartlett is the elder of the two daughters of millionaire Hart, widely known in the tobacco trust, who left an estate valued at $10,000,000.

The date of the wedding is not known here.

TO BUILD BRICK BLOCK

Tracht Will Erect Structure at Cost of $2,500.

In line with the many improvements that are being made in Manitou this spring, work is to start shortly on the new W. A. Tracht brick block on Ruxton avenue. The building is to cost in the neighborhood of $2,500. The contract has just been let to M. E. Mulloy, who will put a force of men to work within a few days and will complete the building in time for the opening of the tourist season.

Another change has been made in the ownership of the Brown and Neeley grocery store on Ruxton avenue, which was recently purchased by Adams and Franklin. Boughner Bros. and Hassell have bought the stock and will continue the business.

WINS BRIARCLIFF RACE

Drives Italian Car to Victory. Time Slow—No Serious Accidents.

BRIARCLIFF, N. Y., April 24.—Louis Strang, in a 50-horsepower Italian car, won the 259-mile automobile race over the Briarcliff course today. Cedrino, also in an Italian car, was second, and Guy Vaughan, in a 50-horsepower car of American make, was third. Herbert Lytle and Paul Sartori, the only other racers to officially finish the long journey, finished, respectively, in fourth and fifth places. Lytle drove a 50-horsepower car of American make, and Sartori a 40-horsepower Italian machine. Three other cars of the 22 which started would have been able to complete the journey, but the race was officially declared off as soon as the fifth car had crossed the finish, to avoid any possible accident to the spectators, who overflowed the course.

The time made by the racers was comparatively slow, and to this fact is probably due the absence of serious accidents. There were numerous minor mishaps.

The position and time of the five leading cars follow:

Driver.	Finished.	Number.	Elapsed Time.
Strang	First	4	5:14:13 1-5
Cedrino	Second	5	5:21:05 2-5
Vaughan	Third	8	5:28:29 2-5
Lytle	Fourth	3	5:29:15 2-5
Sartori	Fifth	1	5:53:45 3-5

A Turkish government commission which investigated the subject has recommended the establishment of three motor car routes radiating from Bagdad for both passenger and freight service.

GAME ENDS IN A ROW

TERRORS AND ACADEMY BATTLE FOR 13 INNINGS.

Dispute as to Fair or Foul Ball—A Spectacular Contest — McGowan Fans Eighteen Men.

After 13 innings of the hardest kind of ball playing, the Cutler Academy and High School teams left the High School field last night with the victory in their first championship game a matter of dispute. The game broke up in a general wrangle. The Terrors claim a tie game, 7 to 7, while the Academy holds out for a forfeited game, 9 to 0.

With three runs in the ninth inning, the Terrors had tied the score. Not until the first half of the thirteenth inning was another tally made, when Cutler scored. Then, with two out, Hyatt singled for the High School, and Bancroft followed with a long fly down to the first base line, scoring Hyatt. A discussion immediately followed as to whether the ball was fair or foul, and it was this that broke up the game.

Umpires Differ.

Umpire Colburn, according to his own statement, twice reversed his decision, first declaring it a foul, then fair and then a foul again. The question was complicated by the statement of Manager Tucker of the High School that he and Principal Park of the Academy had before the game set up a certain board to mark the foul line. After he had called it a foul, Colburn claims to have notified Buckles, who is assisting in the work of coaching the Terrors, that the team would have to resume play in two minutes. This being disregarded, as he claimed, he declared the game forfeited to Cutler Academy.

Umpire Morris, who was judging the bases, was on first and in line with the ball. He gave it as his opinion that it was a fair ball, and declared that Colburn's original decision was "fair ball." He was not consulted in the calling of the game, and it is a questionable point whether one umpire can forfeit the game without consulting the other. Morris declared the game a tie, 7 to 7. Following Colburn's decision, the Academy team left the field, but Principal Richards kept the Terrors in uniform on the field until early 7 o'clock.

Four Players Protested.

Previous to the game, the High School protested four of the Academy players—Lockhart, first base; McGowan, pitcher; Captain Percy Coombs, catcher, and Chauncey Coombs, third base. Principal Richards declared he had previously sent Manager Tucker to confer with Principal Park regarding these men, and the protest was lodged with Manager Whitney of the Academy team before the game began. It is claimed that Lockhart is not attending classes; that McGowan is paid to pitch for the Academy, and that the Coombs brothers, having been absent for the last four weeks, are not "up" in their studies. These protests will go to the state league, as will also probably a protest on the game.

Game Spectacular.

The game itself was spectacular. Pitcher McGowan had to carry the entire fight for his team and deserved to win his battle against the Terrors. He struck out 18 men, having the best batters of the High School completely at his mercy. But his support was of the poorest. The Academy team was rattled badly, and, but for McGowan's superb pitching, would have been smothered in defeat. Lockhart, Thostesen and Gile did some good stick work. Thostesen's home run in the fourth was one of the prettiest hits of the season.

Hyatt started the game for the High School, but was touched up a little too freely, and was replaced by Captain Murphy in the fifth inning. Murphy was in rare form and pitched a great game. He was given the finest kind of support, for after two errors in the first inning, the Terrors went 12 innings without a misplay.

Academy Takes Lead.

The Academy started with four hits in the first which gave two runs and kept up this fire until it secured a lead of 6 to 2 in the fifth inning. In the seventh, the Terrors got a run on three Cutler errors, and in the ninth, by dint of a nervy game which scared the Academy, tied the score. An inevitable double was all that stopped the High School from winning out in the tenth. The pitchers' battle throughout the extra innings was a remarkable test of skill in which Murphy divided honors with McGowan. McRae scored for Cutler in the thirteenth on his own two-bagger and Pastorius' single.

Demand Two Umpires.

The game throughout was marked by much wrangling caused by decisions which appeared to favor one side, the Terrors suffering most. Colburn started out as umpire, but in the third the Terrors refused to continue unless he was removed or they were given a second umpire. "Tub" Morris was agreed upon by both sides, and from that time gave decisions on the bases.

WILL REPORT FRIDAY

LEAGUE PLAYERS TO PRACTICE ON H. S. FIELD.

Sunday Baseball Games will Be Played—Ministers will Not Interfere Unless Law Is Violated.

Transportation has been forwarded the players who have been signed for the Colorado Springs team in the state league. All will report for practice next Friday and everything will be in shape for the opening of the season here on Saturday, May 9, with Denver. "Doc" Graves has secured the High School field for practice until the Roswell diamond is put in shape. The team will practice an hour a day with the Terrors and will also have several practice games with the Tigers. The players will be allowed the privileges of the lockers and shower baths at the club house. Work on the fence and diamond at Roswell park will be started at once.

To Play Sunday Ball.

Sunday baseball will be played at Roswell park by the Colorado Springs team of the Colorado State league. Unless there is disturbance of such a nature as to give the ministers opportunity to carry the question into the courts, they can take no action to stop the games.

A conference was held yesterday morning at the Y. M. C. A. between representatives of the Ministerial association and President A. J. Graves and Secretary H. R. Hahn of the baseball team. The latter assured the ministers that everything would be conducted in an orderly manner, offering among other things, to refuse admittance to boys who could not present written permission from their parents.

The baseball representatives made clear their position, and stated that while they wished to have no trouble, they were establishing the team in this city in response to what they believe to be a general desire on the part of the people. They declared that they had gone too far with their plans to stop.

Ministers Stand Pat.

The ministers continued in their opposition, adopting the following resolution: "Resolved, That we disapprove of baseball playing on the Sabbath and that we continue to request and urge the managers of the league against Sunday ball games at Roswell, as expressed at the meeting last Monday."

They recognized the fact that all they can do is to use their moral influence, unless the law is violated so as to give grounds for court action on the charge of disturbance. There is no law against Sunday baseball in Colorado, and they admitted that it would be useless for them to take the matter to the courts.

As the services at the Roswell union church start at 2:30 o'clock, and the ball games will begin probably at 3:45 or 4 o'clock, there seems to be little chance of conflict.

TWO GOLF MATCHES TODAY

On both the Town and Gown and the Cheyenne Mountain Country club golf links today important golf matches will be played. At the Country club the final round for the Fowler cup will be played, W. M. Randol and Dunbar Carpenter meeting. This is the fifth tournament for the cup, which goes to the player who wins it the greatest number of times in nine tourneys.

The second round for the Easter cup will be on the boards at the Town and Gown links.

Double plays—Pastorius to Lockhart. First base on balls—Hyatt, 2; Murphy, 3; McGowan, 2. Hit by pitched ball—Bancroft. Struck out—By Hyatt, 2; Murphy, 5; McGowan, 18. Passed ball—Dixon, 1. Hits off—Hyatt, 8 in 4 innings; Murphy, 5 in 9 innings. Time of game—2 hours. Umpire—Colburn and Morris.

ON DIAMOND AND TRACK

TIGERS MEET MINERS AND BOULDER HERE TODAY.

Ball Game Critical One of Season. Locals Have Fighting Chance in Track Meet.

1 p. m.—Dual track meet—Colorado College vs. University of Colorado.

3:15 p. m.—Baseball game—Colorado College vs. School of Mines.

The Tigers will meet their two greatest rivals on Washburn field this afternoon. Against both they will have to put forth their best efforts to win. On the track and in the field events, the Boulder team will present a well-balanced aggregation of 13 track stars that is, according to the dope, due to defeat the crippled Orange and Black team. The baseball game will be critical in the intercollegiate series, and the victor today will be fairly on the road to the championship. The Colorado College team stands a good chance to win if it plays its same steady fielding and hard-slugging game, but it also stands a good chance to lose if Willett's pitching is as formidable as it is reported to be.

The Tigers have a fighting chance to win the track meet, although they realize that it will call forth every effort that they are capable of to pull the victory away from the Boulderites. But they have not given up the fight.

First place will count five points and second three. The victor in the relay is to get five points. Of the 117 points, 59 are necessary to win. Coach McMahon of the Tigers will act as referee, and Coach Castleman of Boulder as starter. Strang, Perkins and Ashby will be the timers.

How They Will Line Up.

Willett is unquestionably one of the best college pitchers in the west, and his pitching for the Iron Workers when they defeated the Pueblo Western leaguers shows that he is one of the classiest players in the west. The Miners are reported to be good sluggers and fairly good fielders. The Tigers, thus far, have shown themselves a reliable set of players under trying conditions, while their batting has been of the kind that gets runs. Hyder probably will be selected to do the twirling, although Coach Falk has not decided definitely. The locals will go into the contest determined to play a cool game and to win. The batting order:

BABY GIRL CRIED AND SCRATCHED

All the Time Torturing Eczema Covered Her Body Could Not Sleep—Doctor Said Sores Would Last for Years—Skin Now Clear.

CURED IN THREE MONTHS BY CUTICURA REMEDIES

"I take great pleasure in telling you what a great help it was for me to use Cuticura Soap and Cuticura Ointment for my baby niece. She was suffering from that terrible torture, eczema. It was all over her body but the worst was on her face and hands. Her hands were so bad that she could not hold anything. She cried and scratched all the time and could not sleep night or day from the scratching. I had her under the doctor's care for a year and a half and he ... [illegible] to do her no good. I took her to the best doctor in the city and he said that she would have the sores until she was six years old. But if I had depended on the doctor my baby would have lost her mind and died from want of aid.

"I used all the remedies that everybody told me about and I tortured the child almost to death. Then I saw in the paper how Cuticura was the thing for irritating skin. I bathed her with warm water and Cuticura Soap and used the Cuticura Ointment. She was cured in three months. Now her skin is as clear and smooth as it could be. I recommend the use of Cuticura when I see the skin in bad condition. ... L. Dowell, 4760 Easton Ave., St. Louis, Mo., May 2 and 20, 1907."

TUNNEL TO BE OPENED

NEWELL BORE WILL AGAIN RECEIVE ATTENTION.

Several Good Leads Have Been Intercepted—Has Been Driven Distance of 1,250 Feet.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 24.—Negotiations looking to a resumption of work in the Newell tunnel, penetrating Grouse mountain, have been entered into between the eastern bondholders of the Buffalo and Cripple Creek Gold Mining company and local mining men. The mining company, in addition to ownership of the Wilbur lode mining claims, a patented property on the southern slope of Beacon hill, holds a 20-year years on three blocks of 10 acres each on the Grouse Mountain school section penetrated by the bore. The tunnel already driven for a distance approximating 1,250 feet, has cut numerous mineralized dykes and veins carrying low values, and it is believed possible under the existing low treatment rates to, at least assist in the expense of operating the bore by the mining of this low-grade ore. At a point 1,000 feet in the tunnel one of these dykes is from 20 to 50 feet wide and values have been obtained therein of an average value of a little under one-half ounce of gold to the ton. An expert examination of the different leads will be made as soon as a working permit is obtained from the east, permission having already been secured to enter and sample the tunnel workings.

FIND AT GOLD GULCH

RICH ORE DISCOVERED IN VICINITY OF RHYOLITE.

Assay Values of $300 and $400 From Mineral Picked Up at the Grass Roots.

RHYOLITE, Nev., April 24.—A rich strike of ore in the Gold Gulch section of the district, a few miles east of Beatty, and about five miles north of the Diamond Queen, has just been made, and doubtless there will be a rush to stake the ground in the immediate vicinity. The Rhyolite Herald's Beatty correspondent telephoned that the first assay showed values above $300, with some gold and copper. J. P. Randall and Didrich Wiggers, who have staked the north and south extensions of the strike, have just returned from the scene, and they state that since the first assay was made better ore has been uncovered, which is estimated to be worth $300 or $400 a ton.

The ledge is 15 feet in width, according to Mr. Wiggers, and the rich streak is about two feet in width. The property is called the Christmas, and is owned by Mr. Pritchard. Randall and Wiggers will immediately return to the scene with a camp outfit and go to work to open up the ore on their ground. Mr. Wiggers stated that the showing, which has been at grass roots, is better than anything opened at the same depth on the now famous Diamond Queen.

AN IMPORTANT FACTOR

ELECTRICITY FIGURES LARGELY IN OPERATIONS.

Cripple Creek Uses Electric Power to Great Extent—Has Cut Operating Expenses.

CRIPPLE CREEK, April 24.—One of the big factors making possible the shipments of extremely low-grade ore now leaving the district is the fact that the increased use of electric power throughout the district has cut the operating expenses of a large proportion of the producing companies to a minimum.

The local power company has installed more than 40 hoists throughout the district, used for the most part by small leasers, who do more to open the hitherto unprospected territory than any other class of miners. Many of the big properties have installed electrically driven compressors, notably the Portland mine, which is operating a compressor with a capacity of about 50 drills, also the Findley, Cresson, Little Clara, Hull City and others. With all the factors in favor of the district, there is no doubt that the production will keep on increasing indefinitely.

FURTHER RISE OCCURS

SUBSTANTIAL RALLY IN THE STOCK MARKET.

Volume of Business Expands Materially—Failure of Stock Exchange House Has Effect on Trading.

NEW YORK, April 24.—A further substantial rise occurred in the stock market today, and the volume of business at the same time expanded materially. Most of this was achieved in the first half of the day, the sales to noon rising to near 500,000 shares, which is well above the daily average of total sales for some time past. There was some lull in the latter part of the market, both in the volume of activity and in the rate of advance.

The failure of an important stock exchange house, announced at the outset of the trading, offered no interruption to the advance, and, in fact, furthered it owing to the large outstanding short contracts which remained to be covered for account of the failed house, which has been noted for its espousal of the bear side of the market for months past.

The number of shares bought today for account of the failed firm are said to amount to many thousand, and the suspension was pronounced the most important bear failure that has occurred for years. This was an immediate influence in prompting heavy covering by short contracts in other quarters and the driving in of the bears became a prominent factor in the day's advance of prices.

Many reports continued to be received of unfavorable conditions in the iron and steel trades, of cutting of iron prices and of declining orders for steel. The rise in the United States Steel stocks, though small, was sufficient to establish them at new high levels for the year. Union Pacific continued the conspicuous leader in the advance, and also rose to a new high level. A number of other prominent stocks approached or exceeded the high prices of March, which were the previous high prices for the year.

The lull in the late market came with the publication of the forecasts of the week's changes. The promise of an accession of between $6,000,000 and $7,000,000 in the reserves of the banks must be reckoned in connection with the week's outgo of gold, which ran to $5,500,000. A rate of retirement from active circulation and from banking uses in the interior such as is disclosed by those figures gives formidable evidence of the shrinkage of business activity. The showing proved a momentary damper on the speculative enthusiasm. Prices subsequently advanced again, however, and closing was generally nearer the highest prices.

Bonds were strong. Total sales, par value, $5,138,000. United States bonds were unchanged on call.

WHEAT SHOWS DECLINE

RAIN OVER WINTER CROP SECTION RESPONSIBLE.

May Delivery Off More Than a Cent at the Close—Break in Wheat Causes Weak Corn Market.

CHICAGO, April 24.—General rain over the winter wheat section of the United States caused a decline of more than 1c in the price of wheat on the local exchange today. At the close the May delivery was off 1⅛c, July was down 1c, July corn was 1@1¼c lower, oats were off ⅝, and provisions were down 7½@15c.

The wheat market was weak all day and closed at almost the lowest point. There was general selling at the start, owing to a weak market at Liverpool and the favorable weather conditions in this country, which caused an opening decline of ½ to 1⅝c, compared with yesterday's final quotations. During the day there were several slight rallies on covering by shorts, but prices failed to advance above the opening figures. The statistical situation was again favorable to the bulls, but the bright outlook for the new crop seemed to overshadow all other consideration. The close was weak. May opened ½@⅝c to 1⅝@1⅝c lower, at 97 to 98, and closed at 97½c. July opened from ⅝ to 1¼c lower, at 88½ to 89¼, sold off to 88¼ and closed at 88⅝. Clearances of wheat and flour were equal to 24,000 bushels. Exports for the week, as reported by Bradstreet's, were equal to 2,417,000 bushels. Primary receipts were 268,000 bushels, compared with 390,000 bushels the corresponding day a year ago. Minneapolis, Duluth and Chicago reported receipts of 131 cars, against a holiday last week and 883 cars a year ago.

The corn market was weak because of the break in wheat, all local traders being inclined to sell. The market closed weak at almost the lowest point. May opened ¼c lower, at 67¾c, sold at 67½ and then declined to 66⅝. The close was at 66⅝@⅔. July opened ⅞c lower, at 62½@63c, advanced to 63¼c, and then declined to 62⅛. The close was at 62⅝c. Local receipts were 211 cars, with 21 of contract grade.

The feature of oats was the selling of September delivery on favorable reports of the condition of the new crop. May opened unchanged, at 53⅜c, sold off to 53c and closed at 53¼c. July opened ⅛c lower, at 45⅝, sold between 45⅝ and 45½, and closed at 45⅝. Local receipts were 139 cars.

Provisions were weak on selling by commission houses and local packers. An advance of 10c in live hogs apparently had little effect. At the close, July pork was 15c lower, at $13.22½; lard was 7½c lower, at $8.32½; ribs were 10c lower, at $7.10.

MONEY IS REPORTED EASIER

Payments More Prompt Owing to Changed Conditions—Dullness in Iron and Steel Industry.

NEW YORK, April 24.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade tomorrow will say:

Light weight wearing apparel is in better demand in response to more seasonable weather, but retail trade as a whole shows little alteration, and the crops have not made sufficient progress to encourage normal preparations for future business in wholesale and jobbing departments. Payments are a little more prompt owing to the ease of money.

Dullness continues in the iron and steel industry, the outlook for the year being indicated by a reduction in the estimate of ore shipments to 50,000,000 tons.

Several mills have resumed, including some of the leading rail plants, but these are not started at more than one-third full capacity. Light receipts of cattle and increased tanning by packers supply greater strength in the domestic hide market, nearly all varieties advancing more or less.

HE WAS DONE—BUT DID NOT STOP

From Success Magazine.

A long-winded member of the Missouri legislature was delivering an address in the town hall of a village near Boston. An old Scotchman, after listening for some time, arose and left the hall. One of his countrymen, who was waiting at the door with a buck to drive the speaker to the station, asked: "Is he done yet, Sandy?" "Ay," Sandy replied, "he's done lang ago, but he will na stop."

One of the great faults of Americans is that they talk too much and think too little. Many people fear that if they do not talk they will be thought foolish or ill-mannered, so they keep jabbering away whether they say anything or not.

When a man can't think of anything else to do to be disagreeable he leads a newspaper article to you.

On and Off

The constant changing necessary with two pair of lenses is not only an annoyance but consumes valuable time. Bifocal lenses are a saving in time, temper, breakage and cost. Put your glasses on in the morning, take them off at night, ready any time to read a finely printed paper or to glance from it across the street, enjoying good vision at either distance. No hunting for the other pair.
